

COMMERCIAL & REAL ESTATE LITIGATION DIVISION

The Commercial & Real Estate Litigation Division of the New York City Law Department seeks an experienced litigator to represent the City and related entities in complex commercial litigation matters. The Division handles matters involving numerous and diverse contractual arrangements touching upon virtually every function of City government, ranging from construction contracts with private companies to build or repair the City's infrastructure, to leases of important public properties, to contracts for critically needed goods and services. The division litigates in state and federal courts and before administrative tribunals, handling multi-million dollar disputes that often raise novel legal questions and analytical, investigative and strategic challenges.

Applicants must be a graduate of an ABA accredited law school with at least three years of legal experience. Applicants must be admitted and in good standing in New York State. Candidates must possess strong legal writing and analytical skills, as well as excellent judgment and interpersonal skills.

The deadline to apply is January 13, 2019.
