Division of Social Justice
Environmental Protection Bureau - Albany
Assistant Attorney General
Reference No. EPB_ALB_AAG_3449

Application Deadline is April 22, 2022

The New York State Office of the Attorney General's Environmental Protection Bureau is seeking a litigator to serve in its General Litigation Section in the Albany office. This position involves representing the State in environmental, public health, and energy matters in litigation before federal and state courts, including appellate courts. The General Litigation Section defends New York State agencies sued in State or federal courts for alleged violations of laws relating to energy and the environment. Section members also enforce state and federal environmental laws that protect New Yorkers' rights to clean air, clean water, and safe and healthy communities, and conduct investigations into violations of those laws. Recent cases the section has litigated include challenges to permits issued by the Department of Environmental Conservation, the Adirondack Park Agency, and the Department of Health, as well as challenges to regulations promulgated by several state agencies. We regularly litigate pursuant to CPLR article 78, which requires attention to detail and an ability to respond quickly.

Applicants should have at least three (3) years of experience litigating in federal and state courts, including, ideally, writing briefs, performing document review, conducting depositions or other witness examinations, appearing in court, and conducting or participating in settlement negotiations. Experience litigating environmental and energy cases and knowledge of state and federal environmental statutes is not required.

Applicants must possess excellent research, writing, and analytical skills, and have the ability to develop and complete litigation and filings in a timely manner. Ideal candidates will have litigated affirmative and/or defensive cases and have an interest in environmental, administrative, land use, or energy law.

In addition, applicants must demonstrate a commitment to public service and the ability to work well with members of the public, scientific and technical staff, expert and fact witnesses, administrative agencies, and other members of a litigation team. Applicants should also describe any experience with electronic discovery and trial preparation platforms.

Applicants must reside in (or intend to soon become a resident of) New York State and be admitted to practice law in New York State. In addition, the Public Officers Law requires that OAG attorneys be citizens of the United States. A two (2) year commitment upon being hired is a condition of employment.

OAG employees serve more than 20 million state residents through a wide variety of occupations. We offer a comprehensive New York State benefits package, including paid leave, health, dental, vision and retirement benefits, and family-friendly policies. As an employee of the OAG, you will join a team of dedicated individuals who work to serve the people of our State.

Per Office of the Attorney General policy, confirmation of full vaccination status is a condition of employment for this position. If you are not fully vaccinated, you will be required to provide weekly negative COVID-19 PCR test results. The agency will consider religious and reasonable accommodations.
