

Vacancy Announcement: Trial Attorney in the New York Regional Solicitor's Office

The United States Department of Labor (DOL), Office of the Solicitor seeks an experienced attorney to join the New York Regional Solicitor's Office. The Office of the Solicitor's mission is to meet the legal service demands of the Department of Labor to ensure that federal labor laws are forcefully and fairly applied to protect workers.

The New York Regional Solicitor's Office litigates cases pursuant to the various laws administered by the Department of Labor in New York, New Jersey, Puerto Rico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands, including the Fair Labor Standards Act, the Occupational Safety and Health Act, the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, Executive Order 11246, and numerous whistleblower statutes. The office also provides legal advice to Department of Labor agencies in the region. Our website is <https://www.dol.gov/sol/regions/ny.htm> and provides concrete examples of our work.

Attorneys are responsible for the analysis, preparation and litigation of cases brought in the region by the Secretary of Labor. Attorneys prepare discovery requests and responses; conduct depositions; draft pleadings, legal memoranda and briefs; and appear before federal district courts and administrative tribunals to argue motions and try cases.
